

NTI Launches Adoption Competency Training in West Virginia!

Tuition-free, web-based, state-of-the-art training!

Aetna and Mountain Health Promise are pleased to announce the statewide launch of the National Adoption Competency Mental Health Training Initiative (NTI).

The new web-based state-of-the-art, evidence- and trauma-informed training for Mental Health Professionals enables participants to enhance their clinical skills with the goal of improving outcomes for children and families.

The NTI Training for Mental Health Professionals is available now and offers CE credits:

→ 25 hours for Mental Health Professionals

NTI Training Access for Individuals:

<https://adoptionsupport.org/nti/access/>

NTI was funded through a cooperative agreement (#90CO1121) between the Children's Bureau, and the Center for Adoption Support and Education (C.A.S.E.).

NTI training helps you help children & families with:

- ✓ Increased knowledge of the complexities of adoption, kinship and guardianship.
- ✓ Enhanced professional skills needed to promote stability and permanency for children and their families.
- ✓ Improved capacity to apply trauma-informed, attachment-based casework.

The bottom line results are designed for:

- ✓ Improved permanency outcomes for children and families!

nurture.
inspire.
empower.

